“Two Way Information Flow” (EC - TR)

The screenshot shows the homepage of the Marie Skłodowska-Curie Actions website. At the top, there is a navigation bar with the European Commission logo and a 'Translate this page' button. Below this is a blue header with the title 'Marie Skłodowska-Curie Actions' and the tagline 'Developing talents, advancing research'. A navigation menu includes links for Home, About MSCA, Actions, Funding, Jobs, Resources, What's new, and Science is Wonderful. A breadcrumb trail indicates the current location: 'You are here: Marie Skłodowska-Curie Actions'.

The main content area features a large banner with a stylized portrait of Marie Curie and a circular diagram. A central text box reads: 'Supporting excellence in research and innovation. The Marie Skłodowska-Curie Actions are the European Union's reference programme for doctoral education and postdoctoral training. Discover the MSCA.' Below this, a section titled 'Support for people affected by Russia's invasion of Ukraine' states: 'The European Commission is determined to support the Ukrainian people and to provide all available assistance to Ukrainian researchers and their families in these extremely challenging times. The EU is also excluding Russia from public contracts and European money. Discover EU support for Ukraine →'.

The bottom section, titled 'What's popular', contains three cards: 'About the actions' (Learn about actions →), 'Funding opportunities' (Find opportunities →), and 'Jobs for researchers' (Search for jobs →).

PF: Can periods of inactivity due to the pandemic of COVID-19 and prolonged strikes at a university be considered and deducted as career breaks?

This has to be properly documented, just a statement is not sufficient. There needs to be proof that the organisation was shut down and the employees were suspended during the pandemic and strikes. In particular, the exemption for the period of university closures due to COVID can only be applied if the fellow was not under contract with the university during that time. If the fellow continued to be paid, that period must be counted as research time. Ultimately, it is up to the hosting organisation to verify the eligibility of the fellow.

Regardless of your nationality, whether you are a Master's or PhD student, or in an advanced stage of your career, EURAXESS can help unlock your potential in Europe.

The benefits of a researcher's residence permit in an EU country

1. A researcher's residence permit will give you the same rights as a national of your host country in terms of pay and working conditions, access to goods and services, recognition of professional qualifications and social security.
2. A residence permit will be granted to your family members for the duration of your own permit, if the conditions are fulfilled.
3. You can take up a teaching position. Member States may set a maximum number of hours or of days for the activity of teaching.

Can a researcher move to another European country?

Once granted the residence permit or long-stay visa, a researcher may carry out their research not only in the country of their residence permit/long-stay visa, but also in other EU Member States under specific conditions.

The procedure to follow depends on the country where the researcher will go and the duration of stay:

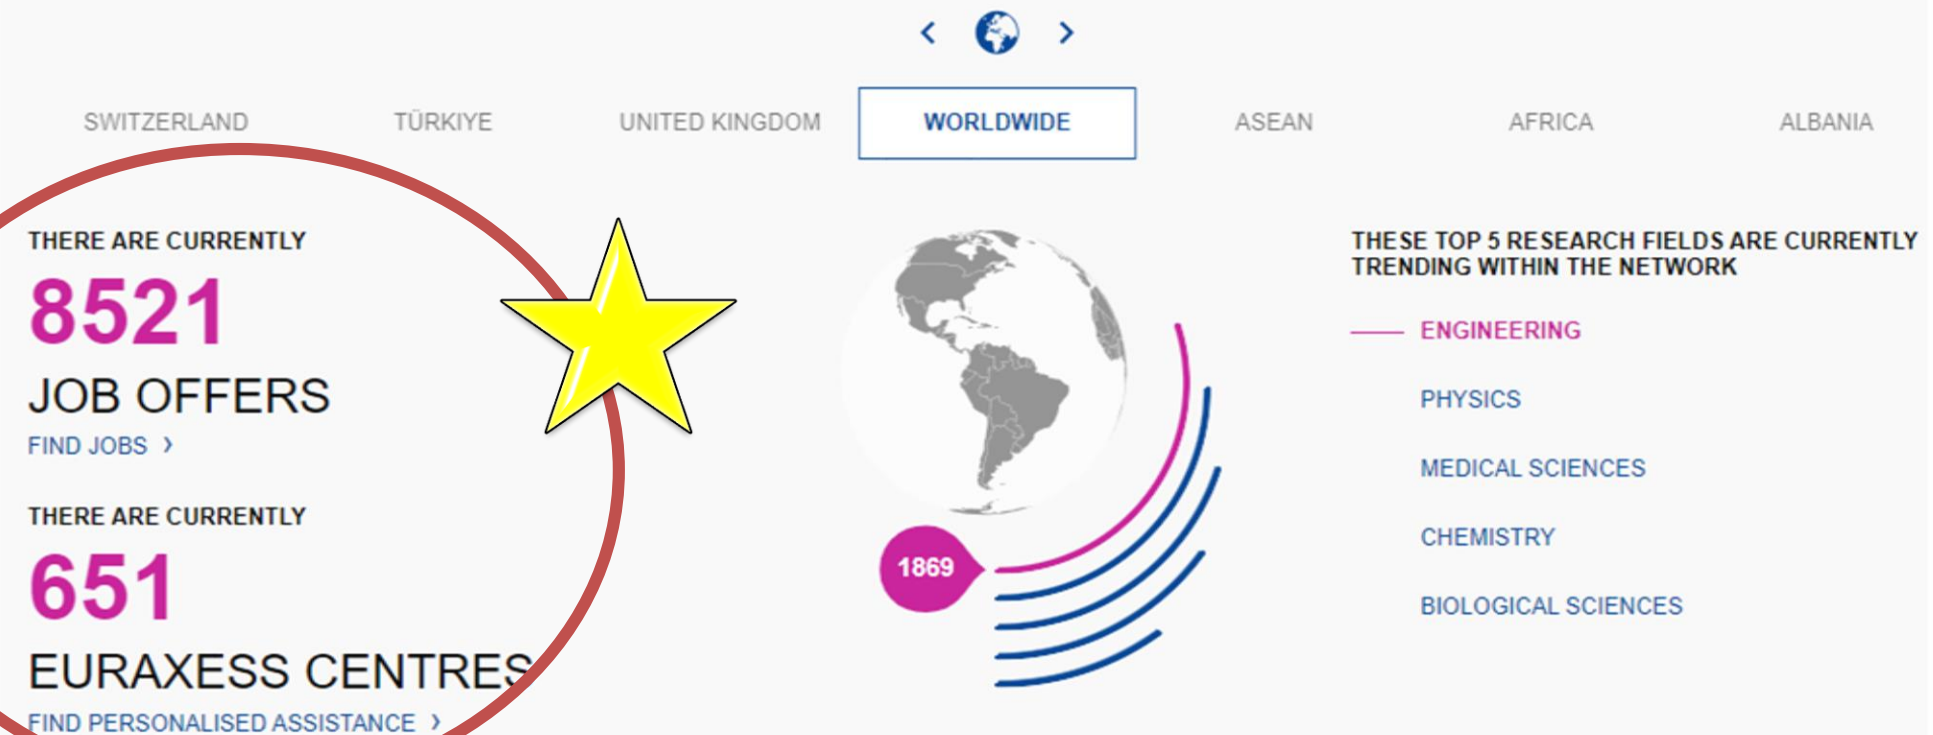

A researcher wishing to carry out a part of their research in another EU Member State for up to 6 months may need to send a number of documents to the authorities of that Member State and is then allowed to move there immediately after.

A researcher wishing to carry out a part of their research in another Member State for more than 6 months will need to follow, depending on the Member State concerned, either the same procedure as for a stay shorter than 6 months, or will need to apply for a "long-term mobility" permit in that Member State.

The Human Resources Strategy for Researchers

HR EXCELLENCE IN RESEARCH

The 'HR Strategy for Researchers' supports research institutions and funding organisations in the implementation of the Charter & Code in their policies and practices.

The implementation of the Charter & Code principles by research institutions render them more attractive to researchers looking for a new employer or for a host for their research project.

The European Commission recognises with the 'HR Excellence in Research Award' the institutions which make progress in aligning their human resources policies to the 40 principles of the Charter &

704 organisations have received the HR Excellence in Research award.

The "HR Excellence in Research" award gives public recognition to research institutions that have made progress in aligning their human resource policies with the principles set out in the "Charter & Code". Institutions that have been awarded the right to use the icon can use it to highlight their commitment to implement fair and transparent recruitment and appraisal procedures for researchers.

WILLING TO APPLY FOR THE HR AWARD?

ARE YOU IN THE IMPLEMENTATION/AWARD RENEWAL PHASE?

SPECIAL INFORMATION FOR UK INSTITUTIONS

UK institutions entering the process as newcomers, or switching from 'The Concordat' to the HR implementation via the European HRS4R.

Submitting your applications to HRS4R assessment will commit you to implementation under the rules of the strengthened procedure and assessment by international peer reviewers.
